About 1956-57 . . .

This annual report is an official record of the Department's activities during the year 1956-57. In it you will find information about the whole range of DESP activities—the publications you receive as a member, the conferences sponsored by the Department, the activities of committees, officers, and staff.

For a resume of the 1957 Annual Meeting, see p. 13-15. And for a series of statements of official Department policy on many issues of current importance, read the report of the Resolutions Committee, beginning on p. 16.

Under the heading of Cooperative Activities, p. 24, you will find information about how the Department works with the National Education Association. As a member of a local and/or state elementary school principals association, you will also be interested in the summary of DESP services to these groups.

If you've wondered about what the DESP Executive Committees decides at its meetings, you can read the minutes, p. 28-32, for a complete picture of action taken during the past year.

You'll also find in this report answers to questions such as these: "What is the Department's official relationship to the NEA, and to state and local organizations?" "How are people selected to run for office on the Executive Committee?"

About 1957-58 . . .

Keep informed about the Department's activities during the current year by reading the News section of THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL. In this regular feature you will find the latest reports on DESP committees, conference plans, publications, and other activities.

A reading program for ALL the children

THE NEW BASIC READERS

Grades 1-8

William S. Gray • Marion Monroe • A. Sterl Artley
May Hill Arbuthnot • Lillian Gray

For steady progress in reading, children need a complete, sequential program that starts at pre-reading level and stays with youngsters every step of the way.

The New Basic Reading Program helps the schools reach and teach ALL the children, prepare them for reading in the various areas of the curriculum. It offers:

- new techniques to make reading a true-to-life experience, to help children grow through everything they read
- a strong program for helping children master vocabulary and word-attack skills
- good stories that build character and meet youngsters' personal and social needs—ranging from stories by contemporary authors to selections from the world's great classics. Poetry and articles, too, at higher grade levels
- extensive bibliographies of stories and books to provide leads to wide personal reading
- day-by-day help in meeting individual needs, and special materials, for children who need more help, at pre-reading level, primer level, and early Grade 4

✓ and now, just off the press, BASIC READING SKILLS FOR JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL USE, a big (192 pages) self-help workbook to provide for under-par readers a thorough reteaching and review of all major interpretative and word-perception skills developed in the program!

Department Goals

Over-all Goal

To improve elementary education by improving the quality of leadership among elementary school principals.

Supporting Goals

Careful selection of elementary school principals.

Improved certification requirements for elementary school principals. Adequate preparation for the principalship (including both pre-service and in-service programs), keyed to the varied and growing responsibilities of the position. For example, increased attention to the principal's need for training to meet his leadership responsibilities in these areas: the instructional program, parent and community relations, school management.

A close working relationship between elementary school principals and those who are engaged in the training of elementary school principals.

Identification of areas related to the elementary school principalship that are in need of research, and encouragement of research in these areas.

Increased cooperative action for better school programs, with elementary school principals, high school principals, supervisors, teachers, superintendents, and other school personnel working closely with one another.

A unified school program—grades 1 thru 12.

A unified profession for all school personnel.

More effective professional association activities among elementary school principals. Strong state and local associations.

WRITE BETTER— LEARN FASTER

CORRELATION IN HANDWRITING

By Frank N. Freeman, Ph.D.*

Bright or slow, right or left-handed—all pupils from first through eighth grade write better and learn faster when taught penmanship through "Correlation in Handwriting."

Using the Language Arts approach, this tremendously popular handwriting plan starts with simple printing, and progresses naturally and logically to cursive handwriting. Each student proceeds at his natural pace, since the course allows for individual differences, including left-handedness. Yet the brighter student is never penalized, but encouraged to even greater accomplishment.

Educationally and psychologically sound, "Correlation in Handwriting" is carefully designed to help you develop good penmanship, good students, good citizens.

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

"Schools are on the threshold of a new era!" These words, ringing out across the land during the Centennial Year of the National Education Association, have keyed a year of growth for the Department and its members. During these months, the nation's principals have rededicated themselves to an examination of the substance of the instructional program, seeking ways to meet the needs of our nuclear age. THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL has given impetus to this challenge through its theme, "Background for the Instructional Program."

In many ways, this has been a banner year for the Department. Membership reached nearly 16,000, giving us the greatest annual gain in the Department's history. Our annual meeting in Cincinnati, devoted to Improving Educational Opportunities for Children, had an attendance of nearly 3,000—a gain of better than 1,000 over the previous year. Our program designed to raise the professional status of elementary school principals has continued to gain momentum. The regional conferences sponsored by the Department to stimulate interest in improving preparation for the principalship have encouraged a growing number of state and local efforts in this area.

With all this interest and growth in the Department's program, the Executive Committee is particularly pleased that another assistant executive secretary was added to the staff in September 1957. The Department will be able, as a result, to expand its professional services to the membership.

The opportunity of serving as your president has been a rewarding experience. It has not only broadened my vision about the nation's schools—their accomplishments and problems; it has also inspired me deeply. Though faced with the ever-present problems of classroom and teacher shortage, principals are demonstrating their sincerity, enthusiasm, and determination in meeting the demands of their leadership role. Having seen many of our nation's principals in action during the year, it is with a feeling of great pride that I report the magnificent manner in which they are expanding their horizons and reexamining their concepts, values, and goals.

Your Executive Committee and your headquarters staff join me in congratulating you on your splendid record of service to the children of America. Let us continue as a vital, effective professional association, striving toward the kind of educational leadership so necessary in the world of today.

The nation's basic reading program...

THE ALICE AND JERRY READERS

Golden Anniversary Edition

FOR GRADES 1 THROUGH 6

The Alice and Jerry Program is especially geared to meet individual differences in reading ability. There are separate teaching plans to meet the requirements of all groups—superior, average, and immature.

This program offers a systematic presentation of skills from lesson to lesson, featuring a gradual and logical introduction of new words. The study of word meanings, the analysis of words, and the understanding of word usage are all presented with a clear-cut approach that simplifies the teaching and reading.

Child-experience stories are excitingly told to give a deeper meaning to reading, and are accompanied by brilliant full-color illustrations.

Complete Teacher's Guidebooks are provided. All skills are set off with instructional paragraph and marginal headings to help the teacher trace the growth and maintenance of skills from grade to grade.

Many important teaching aids are included with this program, such as: A Picture Dictionary; Comprehensive Workbooks; Vocabulary Workbooks for immature groups; Picture Cards; Rebus, Word, Phrase, and Sentence Cards; Integrated Textfilms; Readiness and Achievement Tests.

FROM YOUR EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

At the end of another year, it is time to take the usual look at the achievements of the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA. The past several months have brought a favorable response to our publications program, a rapidly growing membership, and widespread enthusiasm for our Annual Meeting and regional conferences on preparation for the principalship. However, each achievement brings a new challenge and new opportunities for moving forward, and we must be aware that a healthy and successful organization depends on the recognition and acceptance of these opportunities.

This annual report of the Department's activities has been prepared to provide you, a member, with information about our total program. We hope that you will have time to read through it and to note the activities of your DESP in working to help build better educational programs for young children.

As we face the growing challenge of the months and years ahead, probably the most urgent need in our professional work is for more unity of action. Our local and state associations of elementary school principals and our national Department are entering a period of greater cooperative effort. Through such united action, our professional association activities can be far more fruitful.

It was impressive to note the work of a special seminar on professional association activities held during our 1956 summer conference at Stanford University. This group attempted to point the way for more cooperative effort by defining the roles of our local, state, and national associations in helping to solve specific problems. As we continue the job of exploring our mutual roles in working for the profession, we shall find ways to make our cooperative efforts increasingly successful.

Equally important is the Department's relationship to the National Education Association. Our close association and cooperation with the total NEA program has increased and will continue to increase the effectiveness of our Department activities and contribute materially to more desirable professional objectives in education.

Those of us who represent our membership at the headquarters office express our appreciation to the Department officers, the officers of state and local associations, and to the entire membership for providing an atmosphere of freedom and friendliness in which we may carry on our many activities. This is your office. It is symbolic of a proud profession, of what can be accomplished when so many dedicated people work together for a common goal.

The Elementary School

by VIRGIL E. HERRICK, University of Wisconsin, JOHN I. GOODLAD, Chicago University, FRANK J. ESTVAN and PAUL W. EBERMAN, both of the University of Wisconsin

"THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL is a welcome contribution to the literature because of the scholarly way in which it presents the development of current practices and problems in elementary education together with a concise and objective picture of the best in modern practice. It succeeds in giving perspective, both through its tracing of the historical origins of the elementary school of today and through its drawing-together of research findings, of varied points of view, of theoretical foundations of practice, and of practice itself."—Reprinted from a review in the April, 1957 ELEMENTARY SCHOOL JOURNAL

Annual Meeting

The annual meetings of the Department perform an important service. By providing a regular opportunity for elementary school principals and other educational personnel from diverse areas to get together, these conferences contribute to the establishment of unity within the group and to strengthening the principalship as a professional force.

Since 1922, the Department has held some type of national meeting each year. For many years, these conferences were held in conjunction with the conventions of either the National Education Association or the American Association of School Administrators, NEA. The 1955 annual meeting in Chicago was the first to be held independently of these groups. In subsequent years, the annual meeting has been held in Denver, Colorado (1956), and Cincinnati, Ohio, (1957).

Planning Procedures

About three years prior to the time of each annual meeting, preliminary decisions are made on date, location, and theme. Later, in the months directly preceding the meeting, several staff members devote full time to arranging conference details and organizing the program. In addition, the Executive Committee and a local arrangements committee provide extensive assistance.

In a statement adopted in February 1954, the Executive Committee defined basic procedures to be followed in planning the annual meeting.

- Decisions on the date and location of the annual meeting shall be made by the Executive Committee.
- The Executive Committee shall select the theme for the annual meeting and shall make suggestions on the general plan of the conference. As many persons as possible will be invited to advise in planning the program. Details of the meeting shall be worked out through the headquarters office.
- The President and the Executive Secretary shall work together in planning general sessions and other major parts of the conference. They shall jointly select speakers for the general sessions.
- Key conference leaders shall be selected by the Executive Secretary with the recommendations of the Executive Committee, state representatives, presidents of state elementary school principals associations, and others.

- An attempt shall be made to have as few "repeaters" on the program as possible for successive years.
- A minimum number of people outside the Department membership will be given assignments on the program, according to the services needed.
- The elementary school principals in the city where the meeting is being held shall be invited to organize a local arrangements committee to assist with conference details.

1957 Annual Meeting

The 1957 Annual Meeting, held in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 24-27, drew a record attendance of approximately 3,000 persons—nearly double the turnout for the 1955 meeting. Participants came from throughout the United States and from Alaska, Hawaii, Canada, and Latin America. These are the highlights of the program.

Theme: "Improving Educational Opportunities for Children."

General sessions: The conference keynoter was William G. Carr, Executive Secretary of the National Education Association. In his speech, Dr. Carr spotlighted five "great, undeniable assets of American education:" 1) control by the people; 2) direction by a corps of highly skilled superintendents and principals; 3) a varied program to meet the needs of the American people; 4) service from a skilled and independent profession; 5) generous opportunity for all children at public expense.

The second general session, dealing with the topic of "Working Together for Better Schools," featured a talk by The Honorable Charles P. Taft, Mayor of Cincinnati, and a panel discussion by representatives of several national organizations concerned with education. At succeeding sessions, speeches were given by John H. Furbay, Director, Air World Education, on "Education for a World in Transition;" and by Kenneth Cooper, Associate Professor of History, George Peabody College for Teachers, on "Social Studies Are Fundamental, Too." At the final event of the meeting—a dinner—Andrew D. Holt, Vice-president of the University of Tennessee, advised his audience on "How To Be a Cobalt Bomb."

Small assemblies: Seven small assemblies, held simultaneously, dealt with areas of particular current-day interest. Outstanding authorities served as speakers. These programs were repeated so each participant might attend two of them.

Study groups: Everyone attending the conference participated actively by working in one of the more than 70 study sections. Discussion topics dealt with: about ten major areas of the curriculum; working with exceptional children and young children; working with the school staff; opening a new school; improving opportunities in the small school; parent and community participation; school buildings and equipment; and problems of beginning principals.

Special features: One of the outstanding events of the Annual Meeting was the pageant, The First Hundred Years, especially written for the occasion to commemorate the NEA Centennial. Just prior to the conference, several special meetings were held: for editors of state elementary school principals associations' newsletters; for presidents of elementary school principals associations in large cities; and for administrators of laboratory schools.

Business Meeting

The Department holds a regular business meeting each year in conjunction with the Annual Meeting. At this time, the activities of the year are reviewed and important items of business introduced and acted upon. The 1957 business meeting was held March 27 in Cincinnati, Ohio. President Mathilda Gilles presided over the meeting and Elizabeth Dolle of Cincinnati, Ohio, served as parliamentarian.

As the first order of business, the following motion was offered: That the reading of the minutes of the previous business meeting be omitted since all members had previously received them in printed form. Moved by N. W. Hanning of York, Pennsylvania, and seconded by J. H. Hodges of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Motion carried.

Several reports were then presented. In each case, the substance of the report is included elsewhere in this publication under the appropriate topical heading. Reports were given as follows:

By the Chairman of the Committee on Elections, Genevieve Douglass, Farmingdale, New York, on the results of the 1956-57 election of officers. (See p. 33.) The newly elected officers were introduced by the President.

By the Executive Secretary, Robert W. Eaves, on Department activities during the year. He particularly discussed some of the problems involved in finding a suitable convention city.

By the Chairman of the Resolutions Committee, Robert Langerak, Des Moines, Iowa. This report was adopted upon a motion by Mr. Langerak, seconded by Charles Swaney, Maquoketa, Iowa. (See p. 16.)

The following motion was then offered: That in at least half of the years, the national Department hold its annual meeting in the mid-United States in order to provide for fuller participation of all members. Moved by Vincent Dodge, Fargo, North Dakota, and seconded by Jim High, Newcastle, Wyoming. Motion lost.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Resolutions

The report of the Resolutions Committee, adopted at the 1956 business meeting, appears below.

Gifted Children: The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, has long sought and will continue to seek school programs aimed at helping gifted children reach their full capacities. We remind both the public and ourselves that extreme concern for the intellectual growth of the gifted should not cause us to overlook planning for their emotional and social development. Education of the gifted is part of the larger problem of identifying and guiding the unique qualities of every child. We welcome opportunities for working with the public in improving the quality of the learning experiences made available to all elementary school pupils.

Merit Rating: The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, believes that evaluation for the improvement of teaching is an obligation of school personnel and requires professional preparation and competence. Evaluation is necessary in selective recruitment, appointment to teaching positions, determination of tenure, and the continued development of professional skills. There is at this time, however, insufficient evidence that merit rating of teachers for determination of salaries will contribute significantly to the development of a competent staff. Therefore, the Department cannot recommend its use until better methods of rating are developed.

We strongly urge continued research and experimentation to develop effective uses of evaluation for the improvement of professional competence. We further recommend that principals and their staffs continue to work cooperatively in their efforts to evaluate and improve the instructional program.

Professional Preparation: Today's elementary school principal needs truly professional preparation for effective administration of a skilled professional staff, an expensive plant and equipment, a flexible, effective learning program, a well-conceived program of school-community relationships, and for skillful and creative leadership.

The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, has been stimulating state and local efforts toward this objective through its Professional Standards Program. We urge continued widespread and intensive effort on the part of state and local professional associations of administrators, state education departments, and graduate professional schools of education, directed toward the development of higher standards of certification, selection, internship or other field experiences, and teaching experience in the elementary school.

We believe that minimum preparation for the principalship requires one year of graduate study, and recent surveys reveal the desirability of two or more years of graduate preparation.

Professional Recognition: The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, commends state boards of education for their cooperation with local boards and school administrators in setting up certification and accrediting programs which increasingly assure a qualified elementary school principal for every elementary school.

We further commend local boards of education and superintendents who encourage the professional leadership of the principal by releasing him from regular classroom teaching assignments, and by providing him with secretarial help and adequate facilities.

Professional Salaries: The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, is gratified with the progress being made in establishing standards of professional competence among elementary school principals. To maintain this progress toward high professional competence requires the development of professional salary schedules. We approve the trend toward equalizing the salary schedules of all principals with similar preparation, experience and responsibilities.

We do not approve the practice of extending the principal's year of service beyond the regular school year without providing commensurate pay.

Federal Aid to Education: The shortage of classrooms still deprives hundreds of thousands of children of their rightful educational opportunities, despite unprecendented state and local efforts to meet school building needs. For this reason, the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, urges the 85th Congress to enact an emergency program of school building construction as recommended by the White House Conference on Education and by leaders of the two major political parties.

Children are the nation's most important asset. We deplore the situation where children are deprived of adequate educational opportunities because of indifference and alleged economies on the part of the federal government.

The Department is of the firm opinion that increased federal participation in the financing of public education can and should be treated apart from the important but separate problem of desegregation in public education.

Tax Equity for Teachers: For many years, school systems have been developing personnel policies which encourage, and often require, classroom teachers and principals to engage in professional development activities designed to maintain and improve their professional competence. Many of these activities entail expense for professional texts, travel, housing, and other items. The United States Internal Revenue Service has ruled that teachers may deduct from federal income taxes the cost of summer school expenses, but only when attendance is necessary to renew a standard certificate or is made a condition of continued employment. The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, considers this ruling to be unnecessarily restrictive. The expense of maintaining and upgrading professional competence is a legitimate business expense, comparable to expenses incurred by practitioners of other professions, and we respectfully urge the Congress of the United States to amend the Internal Revenue Code so that income tax laws will facilitate, not impede, the professional growth of teachers.

Proposed Expanded Program (NEA): The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, commends the National Education Association for developing plans for an expanded program of professional service and leadership. This program (called PEP or the Proposed Expanded Program) was initiated as a result of widespread demand that the national program be strengthened so as to meet more effectively the complex problems confronting education today. The proposed plan was outlined and approved for further action by 350 circle groups of delegates at the Portland Convention in the summer of 1956. When final action is taken at Philadelphia in July 1957, the delegates will consider raising the annual dues to $10.00 so that PEP can become operative in the school year 1957-58.

The Department recognizes that the proposed program will require personal sacrifice and enthusiasm by all members of the teaching profession. At the same time we realize that current conditions and the future status of the profession demand united and determined action. The Department calls upon all elementary school principals to support the NEA's courageous plans and to work diligently for the NEA membership necessary to undergird PEP in the school year 1957-58.

Appreciation: The appreciation of the members of the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, is sincerely extended to the National Education Association for its professional service. Its program, which has focused public attention on the importance of effective school systems and on what is involved in providing them, has had and will continue to have far-reaching effects.

We thank our Department officers, Executive Secretary, and his staff for their great efforts to improve the service of this Department through increased membership, excellent publications, and outstanding conferences.

We are grateful for the fine work being done by the Department's state representatives and by state, district, and local organizations of elementary school principals. Real progress in the improvement of elementary education is being made through these professional channels.

We wish to express our deep appreciation to the elementary school principals in the Cincinnati and suburban areas, to the Ohio Elementary School Principals Association, the Cincinnati Elementary School Principals Association, the Ohio Education Association, the State Department of Education, and the Cincinnati Public Schools for their excellent cooperation and their many fine contributions to this program. The convention wishes particularly to express its appreciation to Mr. Merrill Van Pelt, Supervisor of Instrumental Music, Cincinnati Public Schools, for writing and directing the very fine pageant honoring the National Education Association, and to all those who helped to plan and present this excellent production.

The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, expresses its appreciation and thanks to the local press—the Cincinnati Post, the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the Cincinnati Times-Star—for the fine recognition accorded our group during our 1957 convention. We commend this as constructive journalism and as a valuable contribution to the important role of the press in keeping the public informed about its schools and about the men and women who serve the youth of our nation. In particular, the elementary school principals express appreciation to the Cincinnati Post for the Special Teacher Edition of March 25, 1957, which devoted almost the entire front page to a picture-word account of our meeting.

The Committee reached the conclusion that it could not draft better resolutions on certain subjects of continuing interest than the statements officially adopted at previous conventions. For the information of the membership, these statements are attached to the Committee's report.

Class Size (Resolution IV, 1955): We believe that the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, should work towards needed reductions in class size. The current shortage of qualified teachers and of school building facilities has forced many communities to compromise the quality of elementary education. One of these compromises has been the steady increase in class size. Studies show that in typical urban districts the average class contains 33 pupils. Approximately one-third of the classes enroll 35 or more pupils. While research studies, now 30 years old, show that students in such classes can reach the national averages in certain tests of minimum arithmetical and language skills, no acceptable recent studies have established any advantages for classes enrolling more than 25 pupils. On the basis of direct observation and experience of classroom teachers, principals, and parents, it is clear that the objectives of modern education cannot be adequately realized in classes of more than 25 pupils.

Integration (1956): The recent court decision, which removes legal restrictions to the achievement by the American people of greater equality of opportunity for all racial groups, is recognized by the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, as a step taken in accord with American constitutional processes and consistent with progress already made in this area. It further recognizes, however, that the actual changes in attitudes, understanding, and conditions, which are basic to progress in this sphere, are not matters of legislation alone; they result, in part, from changes in social and economic conditions and from continuing study and education concerning the broad problems of human relationships. We, therefore, recommend that educators, working with their fellow citizens in the states and in local communities, direct their best efforts toward the development of intercultural understanding, with the objective of increasing human dignity, opportunity, and happiness for all American citizens.

Questionable Emergency Measures (1956): The current shortage of qualified teachers and of elementary school classrooms has brought about a variety of measures intended to alleviate the emergency. Many of these proposals seen to imply that good instruction can be maintained in overcrowded classrooms with the assistance of underqualified, even non-certified, personnel. These measures may endanger the desirable progress which has been made toward more adequate professional qualifications for teachers and toward an understanding of the influence of class size on the quality of instruction.

The Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, strongly recommends that such arrangements be considered strictly as undesirable emergency measures unless it can be demonstrated conclusively that these plans can result in learning which is comparable in quality to that attainable with small instructional groups under the supervision of professionally qualified teachers. In the absence of such evidence, the Department supports the belief that the best solution to the problems of teacher shortage and classroom shortage is to be found in the building of more classrooms and the recruitment and preparation of a larger number of competent teachers.

Publications

The Department's publications program is aimed at serving the membership by providing professional literature specifically keyed to the interests of elementary school principals. In so doing, the DESP publications fulfill a unique function in the field.

The regular Department publications include five issues of the magazine, a yearbook, and a Membership Directory and Annual Report. Additional materials are issued in relationship to the needs of the profession and the resources of the Department.

The National Elementary Principal

Magazine: Each year, the five issues of the magazine are planned around a central theme. During the past two years, the theme has focused on the principal's responsibility for instructional leadership. In the 1956-57 series, the emphasis was laid upon one of the most strategic areas of this responsibility—deciding what to teach. Believing that this decision can be made only when there is an awareness and an understanding of the society for which we are teaching, the magazine presented a series of survey articles, analyzing significant facts and trends in contemporary society. Persons asked to contribute articles for this series were specialists in their fields. They included Wilbur Schramm on communication; Margaret Mead on the child in today's culture; Ralph Tyler on the individual in modern society; and Philip Hauser on population trends.

In addition to the theme material in each issue, the magazine carried several special articles—including features on student councils, foreign languages in the elementary schools, and education in Brazil. Reprints were made of the foreign language and student council features. The regular news section, containing reports of national, state, and local association activities, served as an important channel of communication within the profession.

Yearbook: The 35th Yearbook, issued in September 1956, was Instructional Materials for Elementary Schools. Its focus was on the selection, use, and management of instructional materials.

As has been the practice for several years, all Department members were sent an outline of the Yearbook some months in advance and invited to submit manuscripts for publication. From these, the Yearbook Committee (see p. 23) and the NEA Research Division, which assumed primary responsibility for planning and editing, selected the Yearbook content. Because of the multiple authorship, the book's treatment of the subject is rich in practical suggestions.

Reviews of the Yearbook were carried in many educational journals. It also received the distinction of being selected as one of the forty outstanding educational books of 1956 by the Education Department of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore, Maryland.

Membership Directory and Annual Report: In 1956, the section of the Membership Directory and Annual Report devoted to the report of the Executive Secretary was revised and enlarged to provide a more readable record of the year's activities. It has been used widely by state and local leaders as a source of information about the national Department.

Other Publications

The Flexible School: As the special bulletin for 1956-57, the Department published The Flexible School—A Guide to School Planing. This 72-page booklet, originally prepared by a committee of the New York State Association of Elementary School Principals, was revised and distributed by the Department to all members as part of the regular membership service.

Addressed directly to the elementary school administrator, The Flexible School deals with basic technics of planning, implementing, and evaluating change in the school program. Among the topics treated are: developing a school climate of flexibility, technics of good faculty planning, providing for teacher security, problems in implementing plans for change, and criteria for evaluating the program.

Theme compilation: The theme articles in the 1956-57 series of the magazine were compiled for publication in a special bulletin, Contemporary Society—Background for the Instructional Program. In this composite form, they should find wide use in college classes, in-service programs, and among individual educators.

Editorial Advisory Board

The Editorial Advisory Board works with the headquarters staff in planning the yearly program for THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL. The Board met in Washington early in October. At that time, plans were made for the balance of the 1956-57 publication year and a tentative program developed for 1957-58 when the magazine will continue to discuss the principal's role in instructional leadership.

Yearbook Committee

The Yearbook Committee, meeting in Cincinnati at the time of the Annual Meeting, made final decisions on the Yearbook to be published in the fall of 1957, Parents and the Schools. They also discussed the 1958 Yearbook which is to be a research study of the status of the elementary school principalship. While there will be no general invitation to submit manuscripts for this Yearbook, many principals are being invited to join in the inquiry part of the study.

Cooperative Activities

One of the ways in which the Department serves its members is by participation in the activities of other organizations interested in the schools. By cooperating with such groups, the Department contributes to a number of programs important to the profession.

With the NEA

The Department of Elementary School Principals is one of thirty departments of the NEA. It is an integral part of the parent organization, although functioning with a considerable degree of autonomy. The Department elects its own officers, is governed under its own constitution, enrolls its own members, controls its own income and expenditures, and plans and executes its own programs. At the same time, the Department works closely with the NEA in carrying out all its activities and supports NEA policy in a wide range of matters. In this way, the DESP works cooperatively for the whole profession while placing primary emphasis on serving the nation's elementary school principals.

During the past year, the Department and the NEA have worked together in may ways. DESP support of the NEA has included extensive publicity about the NEA Centennial Celebration—announcements in the magazine, in the newsletter for state leaders, and in Leads for Locals. At the 1957 Annual Meeting, the Department sponsored a pageant to commemorate the Centennial Year. The script for this pageant, written especially for the occasion, has been made available to the NEA Centennial Commission for use by other groups. The magazine carried three articles describing various phases of the NEA's activities—the legislative program, activities with lay organizations, and PEP or the Proposed Expanded Program. Press releases and the monthly newsletter are sent to state education associations—affiliates of the NEA. Officers and members of the staff have served on various NEA committees and have participated in several projects and conferences sponsored by the NEA. At the 1957 Centennial Convention in Philadelphia, the Department sponsored a meeting on department day.

In turn, the NEA gives the Department invaluable assistance. It furnishes the DESP with office space, lights, local telephone service, heat, janitorial service, and basic office equipment. The NEA Division of Research has assumed the major responsibility for organizing and editing the Department's Yearbook. Less tangible but nonetheless significant support comes from the stature the Department gains as a result of identification with a national organization embracing the entire profession.

With Local and State Principals Associations

By working in close cooperation, the national Department and state and local elementary school principals associations contribute substantially to each other's growth and to the profession. Although the Department has no formal affiliation with these groups, it makes every effort to maintain active contact with them. During the last year, the Department has laid particular emphasis on expanding its services to local associations. Approximately 550 city, county, and regional groups have received material from the national office.

Department services to state and local groups this year have included:

- Publication of a monthly newsletter for presidents and editors of state elementary school principals associations and for state representatives.
- Distribution of packets to state presidents. In these regular mailings have been newsletters from other groups and materials from the NEA and the Department.
- Publication of Leads for Locals, a newsletter begun during the year for the presidents of local elementary school principals associations. Its purpose is to keep local groups in touch with each other's activities and to provide tips on their association activities.
- Distribution of other materials to locals—a special fact sheet on the national Department; information about the Annual Meeting; and, on request, the 50-page handbook, A Guide for Professional Association Work.
- Publication of significant news about state and local groups in the magazine.
- Correspondence with state and local leaders on problems affecting their organizations.
- Sponsorship of two one-day meetings at the time of the Annual Meeting—one for the presidents of large city elementary school principals associations; the other for editors of state association newsletters.
- Provision of exhibits for state and local meetings. A photographic panel emphasizing the responsibilities of the elementary school principal, collections of Department publications, and newsletters from state associations have been provided for these displays.
- Attendance by officers and members of the headquarters staff at many state and local association functions.

The Department receives many invitations to participate in meetings being sponsored by state and local principals associations. The extent to which the Department can accept these invitations is necessarily limited—limited both by the funds and by the number of personnel available. At the October meeting of the Executive Committee, a series of questions was developed to aid in making decisions on invitations from state and local groups.

1) Has an official invitation been received?
2) Does the invitation include a request for active participation in the conference?
3) Has the Department been represented at any recent meetings of the group?
4) What kind of representation would be appropriate and desirable?
5) Does the situation require someone to represent the Department in an official capacity, or would participation of a consultant or specialist nature be appropriate?
6) Does the situation provide an opportunity for a principal from the area—rather than an officer or staff member—to represent the Department?

With Other Groups

The Department participates in a number of conferences and committee activities sponsored by various national organizations which are not within the professional education field. During the past year, the Executive Committee established a guide to be used by the Executive Secretary and President in making decisions on participation by the Department in activities of this nature.

1) Are the purposes of the meeting closely allied with the objectives of the Department? Does the meeting deal with problems related to elementary education or to leadership in elementary education?
2) Can the Department make a necessary and valuable contribution through participation?
3) Would DESP representation render a service to the membership as a whole?
4) What type of representation would be appropriate and desirable? Who might represent the Department most satisfactorily: a) the president; b) another officer living in the vicinity of the conference; c) a specialist in the area to be discussed—a principal, teacher, college professor; d) a member of the headquarters staff.
5) Is there someone living in the immediate area of the conference who could represent the Department?
6) Would the expense involved justify Department participation? Would it mean curtailing other more significant activities?

Cooperation for Competence

During the past several years, there has developed among elementary school principals a growing awareness that professional status and professional preparation march hand in hand. On every side, principals have become keenly interested in the types of pre-service and in-service programs available to them, and in the certification requirements which both influence and reflect the degree of professional status accorded the principalship.

National Project

In the last several years, the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, has been acting as a stimulator, seeking to encourage specific action programs at the state and local level to improve preparation. Under the over-all coordination of a Committee on Preparation for the Principalship, a series of regional conferences has been sponsored by the Department.

Seven of these regional conferences have been held during the past two years. About 100 principals, professors, superintendents, and other educators were invited to each. In 1955-56, conferences were held in the Northwest, Southeast, and the South Central area. In 1956-57, the Department sponsored four regional meetings: Northeast—Boston, Massachusetts, November 16-17, for Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Vermont; Midwest—Indianapolis, Indiana, January 11-12, for Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, and Ohio; Middle Atlantic—Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, May 2-3, for Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Virginia; North Central—Minneapolis, Minnesota, May 12-13, for Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Follow-up Activities

Across the country, there are indications that universities, state departments of education, local school systems, and professional associations of principals are giving serious thought to improving preparation programs. In some states, special committees have been formed to coordinate a long-range program touching on many areas of the elementary school principalship; in others, statewide conferences have been held at which personnel from throughout the state can talk over the problems of the principalship; in still others, surveys and studies have been conducted on various aspects of the principalship.

The national Committee met in the early fall of 1957 to take stock of these activities. Their report, when released, will indicate some possible future activities for the Department in this area.

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is the governing body of the Department, responsible for over-all direction of Department activities. It is composed of nine members—the president, president-elect, vice-president, and six members-at-large. Officers of the Department are nominated and elected as outlined on p. 33, in accordance with the provisions of the Department's Constitution and Bylaws. The members of the Executive Committee for the year 1956-57 are listed on p. 1.

Minutes

The Executive Committee held two meetings during the year 1956-57. The first of these was October 1-5, 1956, in Washington, D. C. Major action taken at this meeting is summarized here. The official minutes are on file in the headquarters office.

1957 Annual Meeting: That all major addresses delivered at the 1957 Annual Meeting be duplicated for distribution to conference participants and that reports of the individual discussion groups be omitted.

That some type of suitable recognition be planned for members of the local arrangements committees assisting with the meeting.

That the headquarters staff revise the evaluation sheet used at the Annual Meeting to provide a more useful indication of the meeting's value to participants.

That the Resolutions Committee be appointed far enough in advance of the meeting to provide Committee members with the opportunity to begin work on their statements prior to the conference.

Future annual meetings: That priority be given to holding the 1960 Annual Meeting in Washington, D. C., or Atlantic City, New Jersey, and that priority be given to holding the 1961 Annual Meeting in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, or Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was understood that final decision on the 1960 conference would be made at the next Executive Committee meeting. (See action taken on this matter, p. 32.)

Committees: That the term of the members of the Department's Committee on Preparation for the Principalship be extended to December 31, 1957.

That finances be furnished for the Planning Committee to meet in the spring of 1957 in order to prepare a final report on their activities. It was further decided that the Planning Committee would be discontinued on May 31, 1957.

That the Department nominate Paul Van Ness, Newark, New Jersey, to serve as the next Department representative on the Educational Policies Commission.

That the President be empowered to appoint representatives from the Department to serve on a proposed joint committee of the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, and the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, NEA. It was understood that at least one member from the Executive Committee of each Department will serve on the joint committee.

State representatives: That the following appointments of representatives to the Department from state elementary school principals associations be approved: N. Dixon Myers, Palos Verdes Estates, California; Manley H. Stevens, Sterling, Colorado; Gladys Darling, Waycross, Georgia; Lloyd N. Blue, Indianapolis, Indiana; Edna S. Purdy, Gardiner, Maine; Raymond Ebaugh, Royal Oak, Michigan; Laurel M. Pennock, Rochester, Minnesota; Grace Lee, Hattiesburg, Mississippi; Wayne T. Snyder, Kansas City, Missouri; Josephine Erwin, Billings, Montana; Grace Coppedge, Mount Airy, North Carolina; Richard O. Garber, Portland, Oregon; Gary Baker, Orangeburg, South Carolina; Eva Walker, Huron, South Dakota; Elouise Fry, Nashville, Tennessee; Opal Eversole, Freeport, Texas; H. Thoburn Ralph, Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.

That the plan authorized in 1955 by the Executive Committee providing for an orientation conference to be held in 1957 for new state representatives beginning their term in 1957 be subject to annual review by the Executive Committee.

Summer conference: That the Department accept the invitation extended by the University of Denver to hold a 1958 summer conference there.

Special projects: That the Executive Secretary be authorized to accept the invitation of the Joint Economic Council to serve as a member of its Executive Committee.

That the Executive Secretary be authorized to investigate further the activities of the Education Committee of the "People-to-People" program and, if desirable, to accept the invitation extended to serve on that committee.

That the Executive Secretary be authorized to explore the possibilities of securing special grants for Department projects. This would be done within the framework of NEA policy in obtaining such grants.

Finances: That the auditor's report on the Department's financial statement for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1956, be accepted.

That the budget for 1956-57 be approved as submitted to the Committee. (This budget and the financial statement referred to above may be found on p. 39 to 41.)

Headquarters staff: That the job description and qualifications suggested by the Executive Secretary for an additional professional staff member be accepted. The Executive Committee authorized the Executive Secretary to take steps to employ such a person at the earliest possible date. It was agreed that the Executive Secretary would confer with the President and President-elect before making any decision on a person for the position.

That adjustments be made, as recommended, in the salaries of several office employees in keeping with increased responsibilities.

The Committee discussed a number of topics in addition to those covered by formal action and also received several reports. A summary of this phase of the Committee's meeting follows.

President's activities: The President reported on activities connected with her office, including meetings which she attended as the representative of the Department.

Preparation for the principalship: George Hayward, Chairman of the Committee on Preparation for the Principalship and a member of the Executive Committee, summarized the Committee's work since its formation in June 1955. The need to hold another meeting of the national Committee was agreed upon. It was decided that such a meeting should be planned to follow the last scheduled regional conference for the purpose of evaluating the project and making recommendations for future action.

Publications: The Editor reported on the publications program for 1956-57. The Committee particularly discussed plans for the 1958 Yearbook, a research study on the principalship, and suggested the possibility of including in it interpretive material based on the statistical findings. A number of topics were suggested for possible development in future bulletins and yearbooks.

1957 Annual Meeting: Plans for the 1957 Annual Meeting were discussed in detail. The Committee expressed general approval of these plans with certain modifications. Merrill Van Pelt, Supervisor of Instrumental Music, Cincinnati, was present to describe his plans for the pageant to be given during the conference.

Summer conferences: After discussing the summer conference at Stanford University in July 1956, the Committee agreed that while no conference should be planned for 1957, intensive consideration should be given to the type of summer meeting which would be most profitable to members in the future.

Membership: The Department's membership for 1955-56 was reviewed. The Committee felt that the seven percent increase was encouraging and were pleased to note the many states showing a large gain. The failure of a few states to make any appreciable progress in Department membership during the year was noted and suggestions were made for stimulating future growth.

Field services: The Committee discussed criteria for determining the scope and nature of Department field services to local, state, and regional associations of elementary school principals. A series of questions was developed for use in making decisions about these services. (See p. 26.)

The Committee also developed a set of standards to be used in determining Department participation in conferences of groups which are not professional associations in the field of education. (See p. 26.) They recommended that decisions on these matters be left to the President and the Executive Secretary.

Activities of past presidents: There was a brief discussion of ways in which the Department may utilize the experience of past presidents. It was agreed that these persons can be particularly valuable in situations where an adequate knowledge of Department activities is necessary for intelligent participation. However, the need to avoid concentrating special assignments within a relatively small group of members was stressed.

Conferences for state representatives: The nature and content of the conference for new state representatives, scheduled for the fall of 1957, was reviewed. It was agreed that the meeting would include discussion of the duties of the state representative, technics for carrying out these duties, and background information about the Department and the NEA.

Approval of state representatives: The Committee discussed the provision of the Department's Constitution and Bylaws which states that state representatives shall be "elected or appointed by the state association and approved by the Executive Committee of the national Department . . . " (Bylaws, Article II). It was agreed that before giving approval to the appointment of a state representative, the Executive Committee should ask the state association to provide evidence that the person selected is acceptable to the association as a representative. Election by the members of the association or appointment by the state executive committee will be regarded as such evidence.

Workshop for state officers: The Committee discussed the possibility of holding a meeting for officers of state associations of elementary school principals during the summer of 1957. The Committee recommended that the Executive Secretary correspond with state presidents to learn whether such a workshop would interest them. (Note: Because of other meetings scheduled for the summer, it later developed that this workshop could not be arranged.)

The second meeting of the Executive Committee during 1956-57 was held in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the time of the Annual Meeting in March. All members of the Committee were present, as were several members of the headquarters staff. Major action taken during this meeting is summarized here.

1960 Annual Meeting: That the Committee postpone until October 1957 any decision on a convention site for 1960. At that time, consideration will be given to a midwestern city. (This was agreed in view of the fact that previously recommended sites in the East do not offer satisfactory dates and/or facilities for that year.)

Summer conference: That the Executive Secretary be authorized to work out tentative plans with the National Training Laboratory for a summer conference to be sponsored by the DESP at Bethel, Maine, in August 1958.

Constitution and Bylaws: That the Executive Committee study the need for certain changes in the Department's Constitution and Bylaws and consider them at its meeting in the fall of 1957.

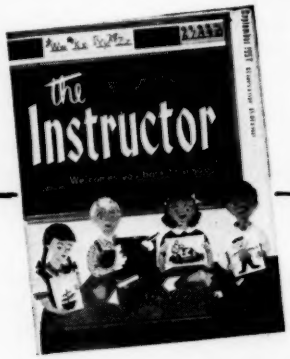
Nominating Committee: That the following persons be invited to serve as members of the Nominating Committee for 1957-58 (selected by secret ballot): Caleb Bucher, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; Melvin Moore, Eugene, Oregon; Frances Nungester, Decatur, Alabama; C. Freaman Reid, Dubuque, Iowa; Leonor Rich, Winchester, Massachusetts. As alternates, the Committee named Carl Forgey, Longmont, Colorado, and Thelma Bennett, Phoenix, Arizona.

That the members of the Nominating Committee be informed of the pertinent policies established by the Executive Committee and previous nominating committees.

Finances: That the proposed budget for the next fiscal year be approved as presented, subject to revision in the fall. (See p. 41.)

Headquarters staff: That adjustments be made, as recommended, in the salaries of office employees.

INCREASE THE INSTRUCTIONAL LEVEL OF YOUR SCHOOL WITH THE Instructor



It's easy to do . . . by providing each of your teachers with her own copy of The INSTRUCTOR every month.

Principals and supervisors find that use of The INSTRUCTOR throughout the school results in enriched teaching and better classroom learning experiences. And using The INSTRUCTOR benefits teachers and administrators alike.

Supervisors can recommend art projects for the noncreative teacher . . . classrooms with little or no science can introduce a complete science program . . . teachers can refer to specific articles and departments for common discussion in teachers' meetings or workshops.

The INSTRUCTOR is a time-saver for both experienced and substitute teachers. Each month it supplies new, classroom-tested teaching materials for daily use. Its editorial features promote professional growth, stimulate fresh thinking, and serve as an in-service refresher course.

This exclusive monthly service is inexpensive. You can save up to 30% on the cost of each magazine when you order for your staff. It actually costs as little as 10c per pupil to supply each of your teachers with her own copy of The INSTRUCTOR each month.

SCHOOL SERVICE RATES

Here are the School Service Rates for one year. All copies ordered will be shipped in one package to one address, ready for distribution.

Elections

The Department's Constitution and Bylaws sets forth the basic procedures to be followed in the election of persons to the Executive Committee. Under its provisions, a Nominating Committee is appointed each year by the Executive Committee to select candidates for office. This slate is then voted upon by the members in a mail ballot and their votes are counted by a Committee on Elections.

Nominating Committee

The Nominating Committee for the 1956-57 election met in Washington, D. C., September 21, 1956. In making their selection of candidates, the Committee considered such factors as these: 1) the composition of the Executive Committee—geographic distribution, balance of men and women, and representation for areas of high DESP membership; and 2) personal qualifications—professional preparation and experience, activities in professional associations, and standing in local and state organizations. All recommendations were given careful consideration. The following slate was selected:

For President-elect:

Margaret W. Efraemson, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Alta C. McDaniel, Forrest City, Arkansas

For Vice-president:

James M. May, Tulsa, Oklahoma
Franklyn O. White, Greenwich, Connecticut

For Members-at-large: (two to be elected)

Betty E. Cantwell, Clarksdale, Mississippi
Ellen M. Lee, Rapid City, South Dakota
Lois W. Taylor, Miami, Florida
Amber M. Wilson, Los Angeles, California

Committee on Elections

Ballots, mailed to all persons who were active Department members on January 1, 1957, were counted by a Committee on Elections. This Committee, appointed by the President, is responsible for opening and counting the ballots and certifying the results at the next annual business meeting. About 40 percent of those eligible voted.

The following persons were elected: President-elect, Margaret W. Efraemson; Vice-president, James M. May; Members-at-large, Lois W. Taylor and Amber M. Wilson.

Membership

During the past several years, the Department has been growing rapidly. As the report on the following page indicates, the last five years have seen the DESP increase its membership by some 44 percent. The varied services highlighted in this annual report have been stimulated and at the same time made possible by this growth.

State Representatives

The Department's state representatives are elected or appointed by state associations of elementary school principals to serve as liaison persons between the states and the national Department. These people work closely with the headquarters office in soliciting DESP memberships and facilitating the exchange of information between the national organization and elementary school principals within the states. The Department provides representatives with supplies for their work and is holding a special conference for representatives who begin their terms in 1957. (See p. 32.)

A Look Ahead

Change is inherent in every growing organization. Since the founding of the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, in 1921, there have been many changes in the DESP. For example, where once there was no permanent headquarters office, there now is an office employing thirteen persons on a full-time basis. Where originally there were 51 members, there now are nearly 16,000. The years ahead will inevitably bring many more changes.

Planning Committee

One of the Department's concerns during the last few years has been to give some organized and rather intensive thought to the direction these changes will take in the years ahead. In 1954, the Executive Committee appointed a Planning Committee to help with this job. As outlined by the Executive Committee, the purpose of the Committee has been to analyze the Department's present operations and to recommend improvements which might be made in the future.

During the past year, the Planning Committee undertook a major survey of the Department's membership to aid in the evaluation of DESP services. A questionnaire was sent to a sampling of about 1200 members in the spring of 1957. Included were questions covering many aspects of the Department's program—publications, conferences, work with local and state elementary school principals associations, preparation for the principalship, and so forth. The results, compiled for the Department by the NEA Division of Research, indicated considerable approval of the status quo, although they did suggest certain areas where an expansion of services might be in order. On publications: more than 90 percent of the respondents rated the Yearbook and magazine as either "very helpful" or "helpful," with better than half indicating that they were "very helpful;" an overwhelming number (78 percent) wanted to continue the present plan of five issues of the magazine, a Yearbook, and a special publication when possible. On conferences: about two-thirds of the respondents had attended a DESP annual meeting at one time or another, and two-thirds of those rated it as a "very helpful" experience. On field services: there was considerable satisfaction with existing services to local groups and the reporting of news in the magazine, but many wanted other phases of the Department's field services to be expanded.

These results—only briefly summarized here—were reviewed by the Planning Committee when it met in Washington early in May. The Committee's final report, based on the survey, will be submitted to the Executive Committee at its fall 1957 meeting.

CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS

The primary purpose of education in the United States is to provide for the maximum development of children so that they may function as effective citizens in our democratic society. The elementary school is a vital part—the foundation—of the total educational program. The responsibility for the development and maintenance of this program in the elementary school rests primarily with the principal.

The purpose of the Department of Elementary School Principals is to help its members meet this responsibility through a professional organization dedicated to the development of increasingly effective educational leadership. To achieve this purpose, the Department

(1) provides opportunities for cooperative study of various problems common to the elementary schools of our nation;

(2) lends assistance concerning general and specific problems through publications, conferences, encouragement of local and state associations, and through individual counseling;

(3) aids in coordinating the activities of local and state associations and serves as a center for the interchange of ideas and information.

ARTICLE I. NAME

The name of the organization shall be the Department of Elementary School Principals of the National Education Association.

ARTICLE II. MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. Membership in the Department of Elementary School Principals shall be: active members (including life members) and associate members.

Section 2. Active membership is restricted to members of the National Education Association who pay the regular membership fee and who are (1) principals engaged in administration and supervision of schools with elementary grades, including teaching principals, assistant or vice-principals, and supervising principals; (2) persons actively engaged in educational research and in the professional education of elementary school administrators.

Section 3. Associate membership is reserved for all members of the National Education Association who are not eligible for active membership. Associate members must pay the regular membership fee and are entitled to all privileges of the Department, except the right to vote and hold office.

Section 4. Life membership is reserved for those active members of the Department who shall pay a life membership fee of one hundred dollars ($100). Life members shall have all the rights and privileges of active members.

ARTICLE III. OFFICERS

Section 1. The officers of the Department shall be a president, a president-elect (who shall become president after one year's service as president-elect), and a vice-president, each holding office for a period of one year, beginning June 1 following the election.

Section 2. The Executive Committee shall consist of the president, president-elect, and vice-president, together with six members elected at large. Members-at-large shall hold office for three years, two members retiring each year.

Section 3. No elective officer may hold the same office for more than one term until the lapse of a period of one year or more.

Section 4. An executive secretary shall be appointed by the Executive Committee for a period of four years, subject to reappointment.

ARTICLE IV. ELECTIONS

Members of the Executive Committee and officers shall be elected by vote of individual members in the following manner:

Section 1. At the annual meeting, a Nominating Committee of five members (none of whom shall be a member of the Executive Committee) shall be elected by the Executive Committee to serve for one year. These names shall be published at least four months prior to the next annual meeting.

Section 2. At least two names shall be submitted by the Nominating Committee for each office to be filled, giving consideration to qualifications and geographical representation. Information concerning the candidates shall be included with the ballot. Space shall be provided on the ballot for write-in votes.

Section 3. Ballots shall be sent by first-class mail to all active members, with instructions to return them postmarked not later than 31 days after date of mailing from Department headquarters.

Section 4. The president shall appoint an Election Committee, consisting of three or more active members, to open and count the ballots within 60 days after date of original mailing of ballots from the headquarters office. They shall certify the results to the Executive Committee and to the membership at the next annual business meeting. A plurality shall constitute an election. In case of a tie vote, a run-off election shall be held by first-class mail immediately following the counting of the votes. This election shall follow the same procedure as outlined in Section 3.

ARTICLE V. DUTIES OF OFFICERS

Section 1. The president shall preside at all meetings of the Department and of the Executive Committee; appoint all committees not otherwise provided for; call the annual meeting of the Executive Committee and other meetings of the Executive Committee when deemed necessary, upon request of a majority of its members; and perform all other duties pertaining to his office. He shall be, ex-officio, a member of all committees except the Nominating Committee.

Section 2. In the absence of the president of the Department, the vice-president shall assume the duties of the president. In case of vacancy in the office of president, the vice-president shall become acting president until the next annual election.

Section 3. The executive secretary shall be the executive officer of the Department. He shall serve as secretary of the Executive Committee, direct headquarters activities, prepare an annual report on the Department's program, and submit an annual budget for consideration by the Executive Committee. With the advice of the Executive Committee, he shall prepare and publish a program for each meeting of the Department, and shall perform such other duties as may be designated by the Executive Committee.

Section 4. The Executive Committee shall be the administrative body of the Department, subject to the call of the president, except as otherwise provided for in the Constitution. To supplement and assist the president in the conduct of his office, the Executive Committee shall, by a majority vote of all its members, fill all vacancies, except that of the president and president-elect.

Section 5. In case of vacancy in the office of president-elect, the office shall remain vacant until the next annual election.

Section 6. In case of a national emergency, the Executive Committee is authorized to continue in office and conduct the business of the Department until such time as operations can be carried on in the prescribed manner.

ARTICLE VI. MEETINGS

Section 1. The Department shall hold an annual meeting at such time and place as shall be determined by the Executive Committee, providing, however, that during a national emergency disrupting the usual mode of travel the Executive Committee may postpone the annual meeting until such time as transportation is available.

Section 2. The Executive Committee shall have the power to call a special meeting of the Department during the year, providing, however, that the meeting be given publicity in THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL at least thirty days in advance of the meeting date.

BYLAWS

ARTICLE I. COMMITTEES

The Department, through its Executive Committee, may establish such committees as may be desirable to attain the objectives of the Department.

ARTICLE II. STATE REPRESENTATION

There shall be one representative from each state to serve as a liaison person between the national Department, the elementary school principals and other interested persons in the state. The representative, elected or appointed by the state association and approved by the Executive Committee of the national Department, shall serve for a three-year term. In states where there is no election or appointment by a state association, the Executive Committee of the national Department may appoint a state representative to serve for a three-year term or until such time as an election is held or an appointment is made by the state association.

ARTICLE III. BOOKS, RECORDS AND PROPERTY

Section 1. The records and accounts of the Department and of its officers and committees shall be kept and shall be the property of the Department. These records and accounts shall be open to inspection by the Executive Committee or by any member of the Department.

Section 2. Every officer or former officer, member or former member, committee or former committee who has funds or property of any description belonging to the Association shall return it to the executive secretary of the Department on request.

ARTICLE IV. DUES

Section 1. The annual fee for membership shall be five dollars ($5).

Section 2. The fiscal year of the Department shall coincide with that of the National Education Association. The membership year shall run from September 1 through August 31.

Section 3. The life membership fee shall be one hundred dollars ($100). Payment of this fee may be made in full or in deferred payments of ten dollars ($10) or twenty dollars ($20) per year. The certificate and emblem of life membership in the Department shall be issued on completion of payment of the full fee.

ARTICLE V. PERMANENT FUND

The Permanent Fund, consisting of the present Permanent Fund and income from life membership dues, shall be placed in the hands of the Board of Trustees of the National Education Association to be invested and conserved in securities that are legal. The Board of Trustees of the National Education Association shall be the Trustees of the Fund. At each annual meeting of the Department the Trustees shall report in detail the condition of said Fund and shall apportion the income to such uses as may seem to the Department of Elementary School Principals advisable. No part of the principal of said Fund shall be spent except after the unanimous recommendation of the Executive Committee of the Department of Elementary School Principals duly ratified by a two-thirds vote of the members voting at a stated annual meeting of the Department.

ARTICLE VI. GRANTS TO THE DEPARTMENT

The Department may receive grants for special purposes, in keeping with its objectives, and may deposit and expend these funds according to terms laid down by the grantor and accepted by the Executive Committee. Such special funds may or may not, according to the terms accepted or according to the recommendations of the Executive Committee, enter into and become a part of the adopted budget of the Department. If they are not a part of the adopted budget, then disbursing agent and the conditions for disbursement shall be established specially by the Executive Committee in terms agreeable to the granting agency. Such funds shall be kept inviolate for the purposes for which granted and received, with a special accounting thereof. They may be accepted with the agreement to preserve and use for as many years into the future as seems reasonable and desirable.

ARTICLE VII. RULES OF ORDER

Robert's Rules of Order, Revised, insofar as they are not inconsistent with this Constitution and Bylaws, shall govern the meetings of the Department and its committees.

ARTICLE VIII. RULES OF DEBATE

The Department shall be governed by the ruling that in debate each speaker shall be limited to five minutes unless otherwise ordered.

ARTICLE IX. AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS

The Constitution and Bylaws may be amended as follows:

Section 1. An amendment may be proposed in writing by a member or members of the Department to the Executive Committee, who shall submit it at the next annual meeting.

Section 2. The proposed amendment may be authorized for publication by the Department by majority vote at the annual meeting, and such an amendment shall be mailed to all active members with the election ballot.

Section 3. Adoption of a proposed amendment shall be by two-thirds vote of the active members voting on the amendment submitted by ballot.

At what age should a girl be told about menstruation?

Better a year early than a day late—that is the opinion of an ever increasing number of parents, teachers and administrators.

To help do the job that's needed

—we supply two teaching aids: a motion picture and a booklet. Both are being used in schools all over the country to instruct younger girls. The animated film in sound and color is called "The Story of Menstruation." In just 10 fascinating minutes, this 16 mm. movie by Walt Disney Productions tells factually how and why the menstrual process starts. Gives authentic pointers on the care a girl should take of herself the year round. Stressing the importance of baths, good grooming, sensible diet, exercises.

"The Story" is told clearly, with dignity and charm. It has benefited over 20 million school girls—and has won the praise of mothers, teachers, medical and church groups. Before showing the film you may want to invite parents' cooperation. Many teachers arrange previews for mothers and daughters, or for P.T.A. members.

The booklet "You're a Young Lady Now" also helps prepare the pre-teen for menstruation, giving her a sound, wholesome explanation in simple terms directed to girls 9 to 12. Illustrated, easy-reading, this booklet has answered millions of young girls' "growing-up" questions. It may be ordered in quantity so that each girl has her own copy.

This entire program or any part of it is available to you without charge from Kimberly-Clark Corporation, the makers of Kotex sanitary napkins.

"Very Personally Yours"—specially prepared for girls 12 and older.

Teaching Guide and Menstrual Chart—adaptable to any teaching situation.

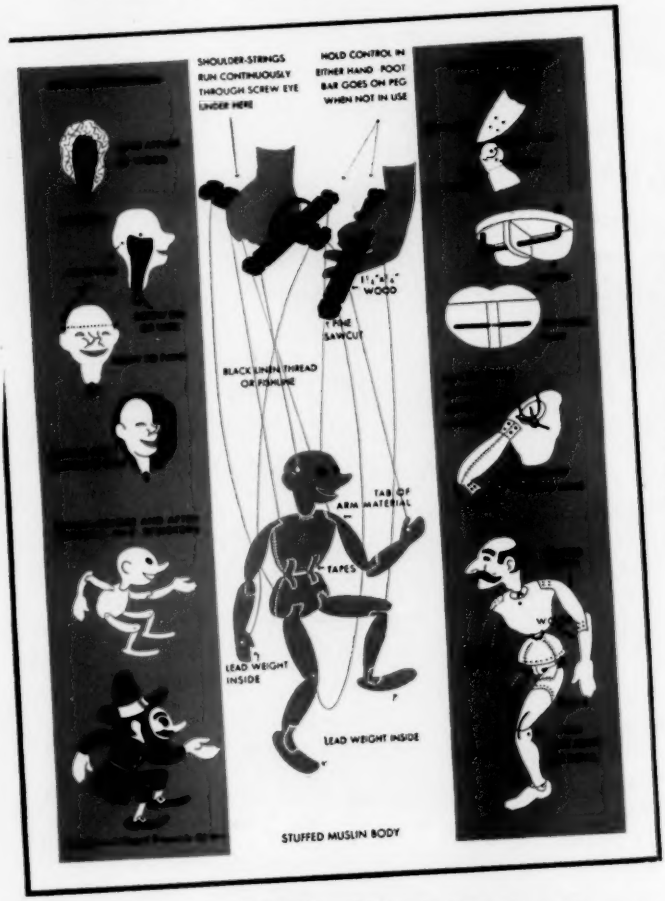
HOW TO USE THIS BOOKLET IN THE CLASSROOM

There is a place for the use of the BRITANNICA JUNIOR in every elementary classroom many times each day. This Booklet gives suggested articles, specific suggestions of content and practical ideas for stimulating the child in his use of these books. These activities are gleaned from actual observation of their use in classrooms throughout the country.

To make the best use of the suggestions in this booklet, select the subject headings then refer to the Ready Reference Volume which will lead you to subdivisions or articles related to these topics.

HANDICRAFT By using his own hands, the child develops a genuine appreciation of the work of artists. In addition, many children derive a real pleasure in creating with their own hands. Britannica Junior gives many suggestions to develop these objectives. In addition to the following, many other handicraft activities are described in the main article:



Kite
Carpentry
Mask
Diorama
Bird House
Model Airplane
Marionettes
Boomerang
Aquarium
Heraldry
Embroidery
Sewing
Cooking

Example of Simple Directions Given in Children's Language on a Subject in this Classification:

Marionettes:

Marionettes are used as a means of expression. They are a way to tell a story or express an idea. For instance, if a marionette actor needs a very long nose or big hands or very short legs or even wings, he can have them without any trouble at all. He can be built that way. Genies and fauns and dwarfs are all possible.

HOW BRITANNICA JUNIOR INTRODUCES THE SUBJECT OF SCIENCE

"There are many kinds of science. A study of the moon and the stars and other heavenly bodies is called Astronomy. A study of plants and animals is called biology. A study of the history of the earth and the plants and animals that have lived on it in the past is called geology. These are only a few of the kinds of science."

Suggested Activities

A science class in an elementary school used this novel device for illustrating their complete study of the constellations. The children painted the positions of the stars in the constellations on the concave surface of an umbrella to depict the way they appear in the sky.

A pulse of sound sent by the ship toward the bottom of the Ocean is partly reflected to a receiver. The time required for the sound to go down and back is measured. The depth can be found from this and the known speed of sound in water.

Another group who had completed their study of the planets used an old umbrella stripped of its cover, for the framework on which to hang miniature planets made from papier mache. The model planets were hung in their natural order with the handle of the umbrella representing the sun. Information for carrying out both of these projects came from the articles on the Solar System and Constellation.

In order to illustrate how a propeller on an airplane helps the plane to move, put an electric fan on a roller skate or similar light-weight object with wheels. The blade of the fan will serve as a propeller and cause the object on which it rests to move.

A science teacher encouraged the children to learn more about pulleys. At the end of their study, a display of various types of pulleys was placed in the hall for other children to observe. An example of the type of demonstration used was a miniature clothesline with doll clothes hanging from it. All examples were made to small scale. This simple experiment is very effective in proving that white light is made up of the three basic colors. Paint the blades of an electric fan with the primary colors. Make one blade, red, one blue, and one yellow. The fan does not revolve fast enough to make a pure white, but it does show why we say white light is made up of the primary colors.

If an ordinary glass jar is struck sharply so that a sound is heard, the vibration of the glass can often be felt by placing the fingers lightly along its edges. When there are small pieces of cork at the bottom of it they will be seen to dance about . . . If there is a liquid in it the surface will be ruffled by the vibrations. We may say then that vibration is necessary in order to produce sound.

CHILDREN'S

LITERATURE

ROBINSON CRUSOE

BRITANNICA JUNIOR can help the child learn to know the world through literature. Below are listed some of the articles which will acquaint the child with stories from other countries and cultures.

American Literature
Canadian Literature
French Literature
German Literature
Greek Literature
Hebrew Literature
Irish Literature
Italian Literature
Latin Literature and Language
Russian Literature
Scandinavian Literature
Spanish Literature

BAMBI

The child will continually meet new types of literature. The following articles may be used to increase his understanding and appreciation.

Allegory
ballad drama epic essay fable folklore limerick novel poetry rhetoric
saga
sonnet

Authors become living human beings if the children become familiar with incidents from the authors' lives. A good example of this is the allusion to Miska and Maud Petersham, taken from Britannica Junior: "Often they draw on the same picture for Miska is right-handed and Maud is left-handed."

YOUNG FU

Suggested Activities

The class or various committees within a class may wish to make dioramas from scenes in a favorite book. The article on Diorama in Volume 5 will help them in this project.

Scenes from stories may be dramatized either as a classroom activity or for the school as an auditorium program. Sometimes this leads to radio or television programs for the benefit of the community.

Nature Study

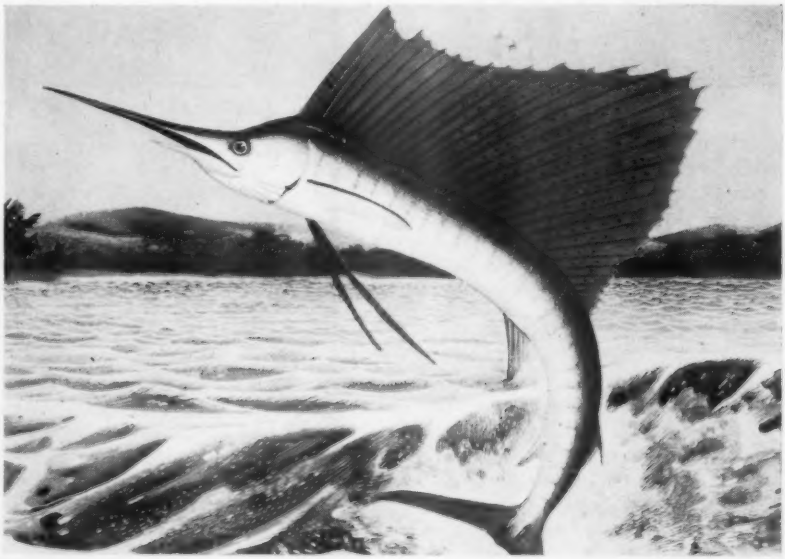
The subject of Nature Study is indexed under general headings, such as Marine Life, Fish, Birds, Plants, Animals, as well as under specific headings.

AQUARIUM

"The best plants for a fresh-water aquarium are arrowhead, tape grass, fanworth, ditch moss, water milfoil and stonewort. For the salt-water aquarium, sea lettuce is used, and the best fishes are minnows, sticklebacks, American soles, or tiny eels. If rocks are used to hold the plants in place, they should not be so rough as to hurt fish that touch them when swimming past. By the use of two long sticks it is possible to plant and replant the aquarium garden without placing one's hands in the water."

SUGGESTED ACTIVITY

A librarian in an Eastern elementary school used this plan to stimulate interest in research. She covered three tables with nature objects to be identified. These included such articles as shells, seeds, leaves, wasp nests and similar material. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades were challenged to see which group could do the best work in naming each numbered object. Each child was given a paper containing numbers corresponding with the object on display. Three days were allowed for filling in the blanks. At the end of the contest the scores for each child were compiled, and divided by the number of the class enrollment. This determined the score for the grade. An interesting result from this contest was that the children requested another in which they brought in their own objects to be identified. A marked improvement in research habit was noted in the second contest.



Geography

"Things are not equally distributed throughout the world. Areas differ one from the other. We must understand these differences before we can begin to work together in a peaceful world."

To go into all the phases of geography that are discussed in Britannica Junior would fill this booklet many times over. Below you will find a few suggestions of the articles to be found:

maps and map-making Latitude and longitude Climate Mountains
Ptolemy Earth Humboldt Waterfall

SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES

(Underlined words indicate articles to be referred to for further instruction. Use the Ready Reference Index.)

Children enjoy filling a bulletin board with labels from food brought in from other countries (i.e. beef from Argentina, or Edam Cheese from the Netherlands). These labels may be used to arouse a curiosity about the source of food, means of transportation, methods of preparations, and correlated questions.

One class found the product maps and their supplementary material valuable in working out a culminating activity in their study of the United States. The group constructed from shoe boxes, forty-eight floats depicting the various states of the United States. The theme of each float was obtained from the product map accompanying the state article. The result was not only a dramatic parade of floats, but a most effective review of the industries of various sections of our country.

Children in a fifth grade constructed a working model of an oil well by studying the diagrammatic drawings accompanying the article on petroleum and the pump. The oil was buried in a glass jar in a box of sand, shale and limestone. One side of the box was a pane of glass through which the children could watch the oil from the glass jar being pumped to the surface of the box.

HISTORY

"It is hard to imagine civilized people living in an age with no histories. Yet such an age lasted for more than half the time after people knew civilization." Of course, Britannica Junior has numerous articles on History. Here you find only a few listed to give a hint of the vast amount of material found in these books.

1. Flags (including 16 color plates)
2. Chronological tables (20 pages including dates from 550 BC to the present)
3. Important battles (4 pages giving place, dates, contestants and results)
4. Inventions (A list of inventions from 1450 to the present including date, inventor and his nationality)

Suggested Activities

Children enjoy writing imaginary diaries of their day by day activities at some historical place. This encourages research and eliminates verbatim copying.

At another time the children may write imaginary conversations between men living in different periods of history. For example, one child may act the part of Columbus and another that of Admiral Byrd. If the child is interested in science, he may want to act as Louis Pasteur talking to Dr. Salk. The girls might like to carry on a conversation between Elizabeth I and Elizabeth II of England.

One game frequently played in elementary classrooms and always getting good reception is that of "Who Am I." One child has the name of a historical character printed on a piece of paper and pinned onto his back. He is not told whose name is printed there, but must learn by asking questions about "himself" until he has enough information to name the character.

AFRICAN

Music

The Greek myths tell of Pan the god of woods and fields, of flock and shepherds, the inventor of the shepherd's pipe. Pan sighed through the reeds on a river bank and heard his breath produce a mournful wail as it passed through them. He broke them off in unequal lengths, bound them together, and he had a musical instrument. (From the article MUSIC)

Some of the related articles are listed below:

Suggested Activity

For instruction on how to construct an assortment of musical instruments it is suggested that the teacher go to the Study Guide "Music and Art." Here also are given suggestions on how to teach the child how to create original rhythms and tunes. The child will be intrigued with the possibility of composing class songs and school songs.

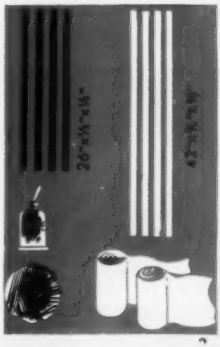
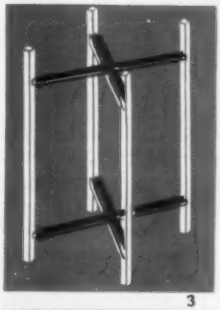
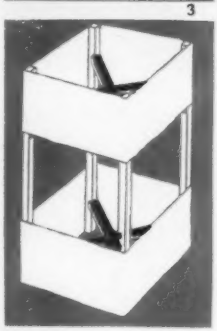
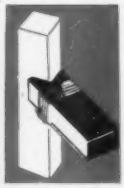
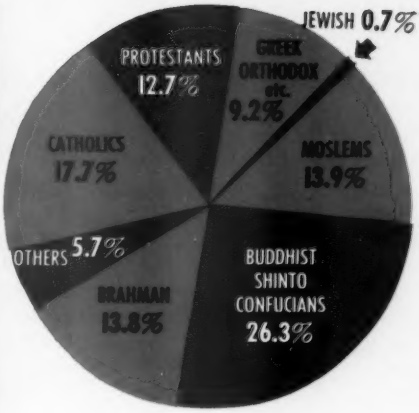
BOX KITE











ARITHMETIC

Arithmetic is obviously a part of everyday living. The BRITANNICA JUNIOR can give colorful, dramatic, though factual information about mathematics which would have no place in a textbook. It can at the same time make numbers an easy natural part of our day by day life.

There is a quantity of such material in other articles in BRITANNICA JUNIOR. One may utilize such stories as those of:

Fractions	accounts
equations	astronomy
Addition	interest
algebra	mathematics
square root	graphs, and many others.

By using the Ready Reference Index each of these topics will give references to other related material. For example, the entry mathematics has sixteen sub-topics.

(Kite — Vol. 9, P.30, 3rd pix)

SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES

Children enjoy comparing the size of their city or state with the population of some other locality.

By utilizing the suggestions in such articles as Handicraft, Kites, Model Airplanes, the section on Bird-houses in the article on Birds, and Dioramas the use of numbers can be put to very practical usage. Example:

"The materials needed for a box kite are 2 bands of strong cloth, each 74 inches long and 12 inches wide, and 8 smooth straight sticks of pine, spruce or basswood. Of the sticks 4 should be 42 inches long and 3/8 inch square, and 4 should be 26 inches long, 1/2 inch wide, and 1/4 inch thick. These shorter sticks, which are to be used as braces, should be notched at each end and then bound to keep the wood from splitting."

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Every volume of Britannica Junior holds suggestions for utilizing leisure time to best advantage. Just a few of the many articles found are listed below:

baseball
Basketball
badminton football bicycles swimming drawing riddles
handicraft

Suggested Activities

Where can the teacher or child go to find the answers to questions such as these:

1) How can I learn to throw the knuckle-ball?
2) How can I learn to swim the breast stroke?
3) What must I do to get over my fear of water so I can learn to swim?
4) What new games can we play on rainy days?
5) What colors do I blend to get this shade of green?
6) What is a "boneshaker" bicycle?
7) What do I do when I become lost if I am out camping?
8) When can I get some new suggestions for making gifts?
9) What books do you recommend for a fifth grade child?
10) What dimensions should be used in a basketball court for elementary children?

BRITANNICA JUNIOR will furnish the answers to these and thousands of other questions which face elementary teachers and children every day of the year. Best of all, the answer is given so the child who finds the answer can read and understand it himself.

THE NEW EDITION OF BRITANNICA JUNIOR—HOW IT GIVES TEACHER AND PUPILS NEW IDEAS ON SUBJECTS TAUGHT IN ELEMENTARY GRADES.

BRITANNICA JUNIOR has been designed to supplement the teaching of subjects in the elementary school curriculum. It is a children's encyclopaedia which may be used advantageously to enrich the teaching of subjects taught in elementary grades and junior high schools.

The content of BRITANNICA JUNIOR has been selected carefully and the vocabulary is being checked constantly. The sentences deliberately are kept short to provide ease of reading, and the volumes are printed in large, legible type. The purpose of this encyclopaedia is not only to provide the material for, but also to encourage, independent research beyond the scope of classroom textbooks by the child himself.

Since BRITANNICA JUNIOR has been planned to supplement the material found in textbooks, it can bring to the teacher and to the pupil new ideas on subjects taught in the elementary grades. The purpose of the following material is to suggest to the teacher the best possible way to facilitate the use of the wealth of wonderful material.

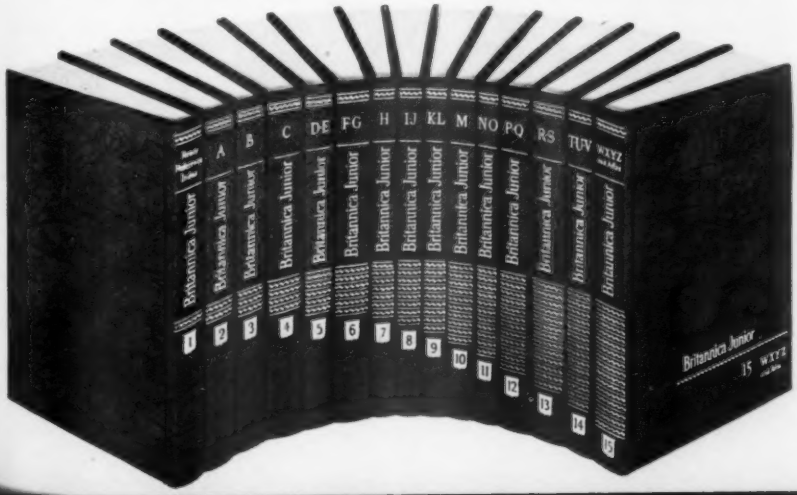
READY REFERENCE VOLUME

The Ready Reference Volume (Volume 1) is the key to all the information found in the set. Each entry in this volume contains the pronunciation, definition, and significant information about the topic. Directions for locating the main article, subtopics, maps, graphs, charts and pictures may be found in the booklet "How to Use Ready Reference Index of BRITANNICA JUNIOR," and in a section at the beginning of Volume 1. Frequently, all the information desired by an elementary school child on a specific topic will be given in the Ready Reference Index.

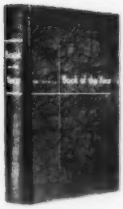
JOHN R. ROWE
Educational Director

The teacher may wish to give this instruction in one or more class periods, or she may wish to teach them as the need arises in classroom situations. Of course follow-up instruction is essential.

The Ready Reference Volume enables the child to find quickly the specific items about which he wishes information. It opens up for him the amazing quantity of material available on topics in which he is interested.



STUDY GUIDES



The Britannica Junior Study Guides were written with the purpose of giving the teacher suggestions for stimulating further interest on the part of the children. Such material as bibliographies for teachers and children, approaches and evaluations of units, handicrafts, additional maps an pictures are supplied as guides to the teacher. Many include bibliographies of films and film strips, lists of records and suggested creative activities.

BRITANNICA BOOK OF THE YEAR

The Britannica Book of the Year, an annual publication, has been planned to give recent material to the users of this encyclopaedia. Information concerning events of the preceding year are covered in the Britannica Book of the Year. Its greatest value for the elementary grades lies in its statistics, current biographies, obituaries, and latest development of constantly changing topics (i.e. world affairs, science, medicine, politics, sports, etc.) Each volume is indexed at the back for easy location of information within this volume, and in the previous four volumes. Teachers welcome the authentic and complete background of facts they may procure on current topics.

VISUAL AIDS

Charts, graphs, diagrammatic drawings, and maps all add to the ease with which Britannica Junior may be used. Three types of maps are placed with the article on all states and many major countries. In the back of Volume 15 are one hundred and forty-four maps. The Atlas Index includes 56,000 entries. These maps are placed in natural sequence of development. Global maps show air-line distance. Physical and political maps of the continents are placed on facing pages. Diagrammatic drawings are clear and easy to understand.
